International Maritime Center

The International Maritime Center, located in the Port of Oakland, is the place where seafarers come when they have time to get off their ship. It is operated by the chaplains and four agencies working out of the Maritime Center. Here the seafarers can come to relax, make phone calls, use the Internet and engage in recreation.

Volunteers are always needed, day and evening, to host seafarers. If you are interested in providing hospitality to seafarers at the Center, please contact us.
